An aerial photograph of a large, multi-deck wooden motor yacht on clear turquoise water. The boat is oriented vertically in the frame, showing its deck layout, cabin, and mast. The water is exceptionally clear, revealing the seabed and some coral reefs. The boat's hull is a rich, dark wood, and the deck is a lighter, natural wood color. There are several windows and doors visible on the upper decks. The overall scene is bright and clear, suggesting a sunny day in a tropical or subtropical location.
